Carl Baum, advertising manager of The Gettysburg Times, answered queries concerning Gettysburg Sales Days and exhibited a page proof to be used to advertise the bargain-day specials.

The Association decided that stores will remain open both evenings of the two-day sale, and that it be made optional whether merchants stay open or close shop the afternoon before the sale.

"THINKING OF YOU"

A daytime never journeys by . . . that I don't think of you . . . nor does a nighttime come to pass . . . where fond dreams don't ensue . . . it seems that every moment is . . . engulfed with memory . . . of times I never will forget . . . in days that used to be . . . they live, those golden yesterdays . . . within my secret heart . . . though many moons have passed away . . . from me they never part . . . through memory I turn back time . . . and hold you once again . . . oh, how I wish I really could . . . return to way back when . . . days held a tender meaning . . . and nights were filled with love . . . and starlight showered magic . . . from out heavens above . . . you were my own true sweetheart . . . and then you went away . . . but memory brings you near me . . . like it was yesterday.

California Is Rocked By Tremor, Rain, Hail, Snow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California was shaken by an earthquake and showered by rain, hail and snow yesterday in a spectacular combination of natural phenomena.

The quake, rated by seismologists as a major shock, jolted cities from the Mexican border to Sacramento, 500 miles north. There were no injuries, but electric wires were snapped and plaster shattered in numerous buildings.

A crack was opened on the 24th floor of the City Hall here, and an inside wall of a bank building was cracked in Bakersfield. Telephone lines were broken at Tehachapi, where 10 lives were lost in the destructive 1952 quake.

Gas Line Is Broken

A 12-inch gas line over the Tehachapi Mountains between Taft and the Ridge Route was broken but operations were not affected.

The Caltech seismograph recorded the quake for more than a minute, beginning at 3:34:08 p.m. Seismologists said it was of 5.75 to 6.25 magnitude on a scale of 10. In Berkeley, University of California seismological equipment recorded the quake for 15 minutes.

In most localities, the quake was evidenced only by swaying chandeliers and rattling crockery. The epicenter was placed by scientists as the Garlock Fault, between Tehachapi, Mojave and Fort Tejon.

Heavy Rainfall

The storm in southern California accompanied by thunder and lightning, brought more than half an inch of rain to Los Angeles and nearly an inch and a half at some beach communities. Snow glazed the mountains and even the foothills above Altadena and La Crescenta. Hail pelted Glendale, the Palos Verdes peninsula and other sections, and lightning caused some minor damage.

Snow on the Ridge Route north of here stalled 125 cars and closed that highway. Three snowbound families were brought in from the Ridge Route by highway patrolmen.

In mountain recreational areas, Crestline reported 10 inches of snow, Idlewild 8, Lake Arrowhead 6 and Big Bear 5.

The storm, starting Monday, was the first of 1954 and followed one of the driest years in Weather Bureau history.

URGES ACTIVE ROLES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr. (R-Pa.) believes that greater participation in local affairs by citizens is necessary because "home rule is the very essence of our government."

In an address at a Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet last night he said greater participation in local affairs is one way of halting the trend toward centralization of power in Washington.

His project program in FFA work includes five dairy cattle, 300 broilers, nine acres of small grains, 17 fat hogs, a sow and litter, five acres of corn, a steer and two acres of soy beans. As another project he keeps dairy records on ten cows in the home herd.

Record Is Typical

His record is typical of the activities in which all of the six youths who won the Keystone Farmer award are engaged. All have a full schedule of helping on the home farm, carrying in numerous FFA projects, and taking part in school and other activities.

Glenn O. Rex, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rex, Biglerville R. 1, another of the recipients, assists with the work on his father's 61-acre farm, is president of the Biglerville High School FFA chapter, and is a past reporter for that group. He is a member of the Senior Hi-Y at Biglerville, a member of the St. James Lutheran Church of Weiksville, of the Weiksville Youth Group, of the Aspers Community 4-H club of the Adams County 4-H County Council, of the Crusaders 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club and of the Adams County Senior Extension Club. His projects include an acre of tomatoes, a half acre of potatoes, a beef project and six hog fattening projects. He started his projects in the ninth grade with one acre of corn and a half acre of potatoes.

Glenn M. Bentzel, New Oxford High School senior who was a recipient of the award today, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark D. Stock, of New Oxford R. 2, assists on the family's 190 acre farm, is vice president of his FFA chapter and has been its secretary and treasurer. He is a member of the New Oxford Hi-Y club and is vice president of a Sunday School class of the First Evangelical Lutheran Church of New Oxford, of which he is a member. His projects include 500 broilers, a brood sow, a gilt, shoats and eight acres of field corn.

Waldo Foulk, 84, Is Honored At Dinner

Waldo Foulk, Fairfield R. 2, was guest of honor Sunday at a dinner, observing his 84th birthday, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Huff, R. 3.

Present for the dinner were children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mr. Foulk, in good health, resides alone at his home on Fairfield R. 2.

Among those present in addition to Mr. Foulk and Mr. and Mrs. Huff were: Mr. and Mrs. Clair Foulk, Gettysburg; Raymond Foulk, Biglerville R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Sanders and daughter, Shirley, Gettysburg R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Foulk and daughter, Linda, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. James Myers and sons, Michael and Joseph, Fairfield; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Foulk, Gettysburg, and Miss Betty Spence, Gettysburg.

year he had two acres of field corn and four shoats. The next year that increased to five shoats, two acres of wheat, two acres of field corn and a steer. The third year it was up to a steer, 300 broilers, eight acres of field corn and five shoats. This year 200 more broilers have been added, with a gilt and a brood sow.

The three other Gettysburg high school students who were recipients of the award this afternoon have similar records. Kenneth Edgar Sterner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Sterner, Gettysburg R. 1, is president of the Gettysburg High School FFA, and was secretary of that organization the two prior years. His projects include 1200 broilers, a dairy cow, a dairy calf, three sows, 25 fat hogs, five acres of corn, a garden and farm accounts. He and his father, who received the honorary Keystone Farmer degree this afternoon, are one of the few "father-son teams" to be so honored today by the state organization.

Lowell Raymond Pepple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pepple, Orrtanna R. 1, assists on his father's 107-acre farm, has as projects a fat hog, a sow and litter, a steer, six acres of corn and a 4000 square foot garden. He is on the 1954 yearbook staff at Gettysburg High School and has been assistant president and vice president of the FFA here.

John Robert Sanders, son of Mrs. Robert Sanders, Gettysburg R. 1, assists on the family's 68-acre farm. He is a member of the FFA, the school band and yearbook staff, and has as his projects a dairy cow, a steer, a sow and litter, four acres of oats, two acres of wheat and 12 acres of corn.

FIGHT POULTRY DISEASE IN PA.

Pennsylvania poultrymen lose an average of 20 per cent of their birds through deaths, Dr. P. H. Seitz, poultry pathologist of the State Bureau of Animal Industry, told the Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation in a State Farm Show meeting. That means a loss of $40,000,000 in potential income, he said.

He said that profitable poultry production depends on the control of disease and the maintenance of health. Dr. Swift referred to organization efforts to curb poultry diseases in the Commonwealth through the establishment of state diagnostic laboratories. Two are already working—one at the Pennsylvania State University, the other at the New Bolton Center of the University of Pennsylvania's School of Veterinary Medicine in Chester County. Further aid is near at hand, as regional diagnostic laboratories near completion in Butler and Tunkhannock. Plans also have been completed for a laboratory at the National Agricultural College in Bucks County.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture supervises activities at the new poultry diagnostic laboratories and continues operation of the animal and poultry disease laboratory at Summerdale in Cumberland County, near Harrisburg.

During the past year 2,109,246 poultry specimens were examined, including 2,103,097 blood samples tested for pullorum disease and the remaining 6,149 were poultry autopsies. The Summerdale laboratory also propagated and distributed sufficient infectious bronchitis virus to immunize 3,700,000 chickens in Pennsylvania flocks, Dr. Seitz reported.

Absolute zero, the complete absence of heat, is 459.72 degrees Fahrenheit below zero.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE QUIET MIND

I have been reading a most interesting book called "Out of This World," by Mrs. John Erskine.
It contains the stories of hermits and hide-away people in the great city of New York, most of them now gone from their silently left homes. It isn't a cheerful book to read, though excellently written. Most of the characters were very wealthy, but shared their riches as misers, hermits, and recluses.

After reading those stories I began to realize how lucky I have been, for instead of millions in money I have something far finer in the love and companionship of scores of friends and a multitude of books. I can sit in my modest home and welcome every caller who rings the entrance bell. Those hermits had the doorbells removed and had no telephones.

I came across this line by Robert Greene. He said: "The quiet mind is richer than a crown."
You have probably read or heard of a certain king who sent his cousins out to search for a contented man, and when they found him to bring back his shirt that he, the king, might wear it. They found a poorly dressed man by the roadside singing, and asked if he was contented. He said he was.
They asked for his shirt—but he had none!

People with great wealth worry about it. They have few, if any, wants of a material nature, for money could buy them. They have no thrills of love or those that result from strife and sacrifice, often rising from poverty to positions of great usefulness. The quiet mind—what a treasure!

What nourishment to the mind and soul are books like Thoreau's
"Walden," "The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius," and Michael Fairless's "The Roadmender." Read them any time when in need of this quiet mind, and you will be richly rewarded.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Night — And Books."

A GLORIOUS COUNTRY

I know of a country where freedom is loved

And one from the sidewalk is jostled and shoved.

Where creeds are respected, and people may pray

As their hearts and their consciences tell them the way.

I know of a country with churches and schools

Where right and not might is the motive that rules.

Where a boy is allowed to do all that he can

To develop his talent and grow to a man.

I know of a land by the Lord richly blest

Where all who are weary may lie down to rest.

Where home is a spot that is precious and dear

And the night settles down bringing little to fear.

I know of a country where glancing around

The glories and splendors of beauty abound.

Where gardens in summer are bordered with flowers.

And I thank the good Lord that country is ours.

CRASH SHIFTS DESTINATION OF MOTHER'S TRIP

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (P)—

The husband and mother of Mrs.
Dorothy Beecher Baker, en route to meet her in Trinidad, turned back Tuesday and headed instead for Rome to attend her funeral.

Mrs. Baker was listed among the dead in the crash Sunday of British Overseas Airways Comet jetliner in the Mediterranean.

Her husband, Frank Baker, and mother, Mrs. Louella K. Beecher, both of Lima, Ohio, first learned of her death when they arrived here Monday night.

They had planned to spend a few days here with Mrs. Baker's father, H. C. Beecher, then fly to Trinidad for a reunion with her on her way home from a trip to India.

Reports from the island of Elba, near which the plane crashed, had identified Mrs. Baker as a descendant of Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Her husband told newsmen here, however, that he knew of no such relationship.

EX-MAYOR OF PHILLY DIES

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Former Mayor Bernard Samuel, 73, died
Tuesday at his home.

A rotund, smiling little man,
Samuel was known to tens of thousands of Philadelphians and to distinguished visitors from all corners of the world as "Barney."

He served 10½ years as chief executive of the nation's third largest city, retiring from office in January, 1952.

Samuel did not get up at his regular time Tuesday morning. His wife, Mrs. Eleanor Samuel, thought at first he simply was sleeping longer than usual but at 10:45 was unable to awaken him.
She called police and their son, Richard Samuel. Doctors were summoned to the house, at 1342 Shunk St. in South Philadelphia, where Samuel had lived all his life.

Richard Samuel announced his father's death shortly after 11 a. m.
Samuel was the only living ex-mayor of Philadelphia.

A Republican, he was president of City Council when Mayor Robert E. Lamberton died in August, 1941.
Samuel was appointed mayor for the remainder of Lamberton's term, and subsequently was re-elected in 1943 and 1947. He did not seek a third term in 1951, when Democrats swept the city and Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. was elected to succeed Samuel.

They were: Walter M. Clark, 35;
Joseph W. Dobbins, 37; and John Edward Over, 47.

State police said Clark apparently was the pilot since he had a pilot's license in his pocket.

The cause of the crash was not known. Temperatures were near zero and a stiff wind was blowing.

Big Four Meeting May Not Be Held

BERLIN (P)—The continuing deadlock between representatives of the three western powers and the Russians over a site for the projected Big Four foreign ministers meeting raised Allied concern today as to whether the conference would come off at all.

The failure of the talks between the four Berlin commandants on arrangements to produce any results thus far posed a genuine threat to the scheduled Jan. 25 opening of the big party, some Western sources said.

One competent diplomat asserted that further failure to reach agreement would pose the natural question: "Do the Russians want the meeting at all?"

The third meeting of the four commandants wound up early Tuesday morning after 11 hours of fruitless talk.

YOUNG ITALIAN NAMED PREMIER

ROME (P)—Aminore Fanfani,

46-year-old left-wing leader of the Christian Democratic party, agreed Tuesday to try to form a new Italian government.

He "conditionally" accepted President Luigi Einaudi's offer of the premiership after former Premier Giuseppe Pella, who resigned
Jan. 5, had turned it down.

Press and political observers had generally agreed Einaudi would ask Fanfani to attempt to end the week-long political crisis.

He had served as agriculture minister under Alcide De Gasperi and as interior minister in Pella's five-month-old government. In the former post, he played a major part in the implementation of the land reform program under which Italy plans to distribute 1,750,000 acres to 50,000 peasant families.

Pella resigned last week after

Hershey Varsity, Reserves Down Warriors 68-33, 38-29; Waynesboro Here Friday

The Gettysburg High School Warriors absorbed a 68-33 trouncing at the hands of the veteran Hershey High Trojans Tuesday evening at Hershey in a South Penn Basketball League game.

From start to finish it was all Hershey as the Trojans lived by a wide margin throughout. The setback, third in seven games for the Warriors, practically eliminated the locals in the first half race while the triumph kept the Trojans in the thick of the battle for top honors.

Gettysburg was held to a paltry six points in the first period which came on a pair of goals by Bobby Rohrbaugh and one by George Penn. Meanwhile the Trojans rammed through 18 tallies, Bob Tancredi and Frank Capitani each securing seven.

Hershey continued its fast pace in the second period and again it was Tancredi and Capitani leading the way, the former landing a pair of goals and six of seven free tosses. The Warriors' 10 points were the result of single goals by Penn, Roger Zeilen, Jay Schmitt and Ronnie Williams, with Stan Musser and Pete Baughman adding charity tosses. At half time Hershey led 37-16.

Scrubs In Action
The second half was a repetition of the first as Hershey outscored the Forney-men in both quarters by wide margins. Both coaches made liberal use of their substitutes in the final half.

Tancredi took the scoring honors of the evening with 20 points while Schmitt hooped seven to be high for Gettysburg.

Gettysburg's jayvees also suffered a setback in the preliminary, 38-29. The Hershey scrubs led throughout and at half time was on top 16-13.

The Warriors will attempt to get back into the win column Friday night when Harry Pure brings his Waynesboro cagers here for a league encounter.

Pete Kemper's outfit was led by Lynn Golden who ripped the cords for 31 points. Donnie Weigle and Bill Taylor collected 18 each and Dan Williams 16. Top man for East Berlin was Ralph McGregor who landed 28. The defeat was the first in league play for the Indians after two wins.

In the only other league game played Boiling Springs won its third in a row to take over first place by defeating New Oxford 57-39 at New Oxford. The Bubbler, defending champions, hopped off into a 14-5 lead in the first period and led the remainder of the way. ## JR. HIGH BOWS TO DELONE IN OVERTIME 28-27

The Gettysburg Junior High dribblers suffered their first setback after two victories when they lost a 28-27 decision to the Delone Catholic Freshmen in an overtime game here Tuesday evening.

After battling to a 25-25 deadlock at the end of the regulation game the contest went into an extra period when foul tosses accounted for all points.

Junie Sachs' varsity muffed two chances in the extra frame. Fridinger was awarded two free tosses and caged both but one was ruled out when the youngster's foot was over the foul line. Gettysburg held a 27-26 lead and then made the mistake of taking a shot rather than stall. Delone got possession and later converted a pair of fouls to triumph.

Both teams were off in shooting throughout the game while the Squires showed a little more aggressiveness.

Ira Kerr's reserves won their second game in three engagements by taking the preliminary 29-26. The locals trailed 9-7 at the end of the first period but blanked their opponents 11-0 in the second frame to breeze through handily. Baltzley netted eight goals to lead the winners.

Friday night the local teams journey to Waynesboro for a double-header.

ADAMS COUNTY COLD WEATHER CONTINUES BUT WINDS LESSEN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Skies cleared and winds diminished in the storm-swept Northeast section of the country today but colder weather was the immediate outlook.

The frigid weather in the snow-covered Northeast area extended westward to the Rockies and dipped into the South. It was below freezing as far south as southern Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi.

New England reported the season's coldest weather. Temperatures ranged from the teens to 25 degrees below zero in northern Maine. Snow in the area during the storm since Sunday ranged from 4 to 15 inches, with southeastern Massachusetts and northern Maine getting the heaviest amounts.

The storm in the Northeast, the worst in five years, was blamed for at least 76 deaths.

40 Below Zero
It was biting cold in sections of the Midwest again today. Temperatures, however, moderated in northern Minnesota, where it was around 40 degrees below zero Tuesday. It was -22 in Eau Claire, Wis., today and in Duluth, Minn., where yesterday's top reading was 6 below.

But at International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, it was a comparative mild 7 below zero today compared to 39 degrees below yesterday.

Temperatures moderated in the eastern Dakotas.

In New York state temperatures were predicted to range from 5 above to 10 below. It was 14 in New York City early today with continued cold in prospect today and tonight. More snow also was forecast in the western sections Friday.

RACCOONS SQUELCHED

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—The raccoons have nobody to blame but themselves.

Rummaging for food and upsetting garbage cans in the process, they have made a nuisance of themselves this season in the public area of neighboring Cooper's Forest.

So the Conservation Commission sent in its trapper, Dewey Rollyson. He trapped 29 raccoons for removal to open country outside the forest.

TOMATO GROWER GIVEN PLAQUE

A. M. Tyson, Red Lion R. 3, a Pennsylvania Master Tomato Grower for 1953, was given additional honors at the Farm Show Tuesday, when he was awarded a plaque as winner in the "high quality" grouping under Class "C" competition.

A thirteen-year veteran in tomato growing, Mr. Tyson has been producing crops for The C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville, since the opening of their receiving station in the York County area in 1947.

Class "C" competition includes growers who raise from one to three acres of tomatoes and qualify as Master Tomato Growers by producing at least 20 tons per acre. Mr. Tyson grew 22.93 tons per acre and was declared a winner by reason of his record high quality which was 82 per cent U. S. No. 1.

First In Two Counties

Presentation of the award was made at the Tomato Session of the Vegetable Growers meeting when five other plaques were given to outstanding growers in the state. In commenting on the award, Donald E. Horst, crop supervisor of the Musselman company, stated that "once again our growers have proven that the York-Adams area is as adaptable to tomato production as any section in the country."

Although not eligible for a state award, A. Dale Knouse, Biglerville R. 1, with a record of 89 per cent U. S. No. 1, ranks first in grade in both Adams and York Counties among growers of the Musselman company, according to an announcement made recently.

TELLS FACTORS IN EGG COSTS

Speaking of the cost of producing hatching eggs at the State Farm Show meeting of the Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation, Austin I. Hubbard, Walpole, N. H., gave several factors which must be considered in determining cost.

"Kow the breed and strain that will be used for hatching egg production," he said. "Every expense that goes into the cost of producing a dozen hatching eggs will be affected by egg laying ability, laying house mortality, and the economical utilization of feed by the strain of birds used."

"We must also know the length of time in which hatching eggs will be sold."

Reporting on costs gathered on 250,000 birds on 125 farms producing hatching eggs for Hubbard Farms, and on the 25,000 pullets housed by Hubbard, Walpole, N. H., gave several factors which must be considered in determining cost.

When production drops it decreases the overall income of the producer, and the lost income must be charged as cost in producing hatching eggs, Hubbard explained.

55 Pennsylvanians Receive Honorary Keystone Farmer Degrees At 1954 Farm Show

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The award of 55 honorary Keystone Farmer degrees to outstanding Pennsylvanians today marked the mid-way point of the 1954 State Farm Show.

Included in a host of citizens receiving the award, made by the Pennsylvania chapter of the Future Farmers of America, are Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary, and Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University.

The FFA award is granted citizens who have contributed to the advancement of Pennsylvania agriculture, although only one of this year's recipients is a farmer.

At the same time 215 youngsters—members of the FFA—were honored with the Keystone Farmer degree. The active degrees are given vocational students for outstanding achievements in agriculture and rural life.

Receives Highest Honor
The highest state FFA honor goes this year to Charles Gamble, 18, of Fredonia, Mercer County. He was named State Star Farmer for exceptional talent in operating a dairy herd during four years of vocational training.

Boys for FFA awards are selected on their records which are submitted to agriculture instructors and county farm advisers. The degree is given to only 2 per cent of the FFA's state membership each year.

Last night a capacity crowd of more than 8,000 people—many standing—saw the 8th annual rural talent festival. A high point of every farm show since World War II, nearly 1,000 performers joined in presenting precision drills and dances.

Colorful costumes and massed choir singing added to the impressive production built around the show theme "The Pennsylvania Rural Home."

The pageant, entitled "Song of the Soil," was presented in four stages starting with "faith" and moving into "useful work," "friendship," and "service to others."

Nine Queens Honored
At its conclusion the commonwealth's nine agricultural queens were presented with certificates by Horst.

Vocational pupils in agriculture and home economics, 4-H Clubs, granges and other farm youth organizations collaborated in the pageant.

Farm Show officials were cheered yesterday by climbing attendance figures despite more than seven inches of snow that kept traffic crawling to and from the huge 13-acre Farm Show Building.

Horst said the attendance—15,000 yesterday—justified the farm show commission's "fundamental principle" of providing educational exhibits, rather than merely entertainment.

"The vitality of the show is shown by the people who come to despite weather," Horst declared. "The attendance justified the fundamental principle the farm show organization has followed for many years—education," Horst said. Horst said the attended numerous farm organization meetings and "was amazed at the attendance."

People Are Interested
"The people are highly interested in their state's agriculture," he added.

The estimated attendance paralleled the opening day attendance at the 1953 show but was nearly 20,000 below the second day of last year's exposition.

Judging events continued, with 17 more grand champions named. Judges must sift through 11,000 competitive entries in awarding some $55,912 in cash prizes—a record for farm show awards.

The state's biggest farm income industry, dairying, will collect $13,615.

In other events, Gov. John S. Flinn was presented with the state championship quilt, made by grange women.

"Debutante's Pride"
"I will cherish this quilt," Flinn said in accepting the prize-winning bed covering. "This quilt will bring pleasant reminders when I get to my farm in Luzerne County."

Named the "debutante's pride," the quilt was made by women of the Manchester Grange, York County.

Another state championship quilt was presented recently to President Eisenhower.

Meanwhile, speculation continued as to whether a Hereford steer or an Aberdeen-Angus steer would be named show champion in pre-sale

HUFFINGTON TALKS ABOUT PA. TOMATOES

A 100 per cent increase in tomato yields has followed the Pennsylvania tomato improvement programs resulting from the Keystone state's ten- and 20-ton tomato clubs, it was reported by Jesse M. Huffington, formerly of Biglerville, crop consultant for Continental Can Company, at the Farm Show Tomato meeting at the Farm Show today.

In 1933 the average yield of tomatoes per acre in Pennsylvania was only 4.2 tons per acre, while in 1953 it was 8.4 tons. A more favorable growing season than in 1953, with at least one good rain after the planting season, could easily result in a state average of over 10 tons per acre.

The national average yield of tomatoes has increased nearly 200 per cent in 30 years—from 3.88 tons in 1933 to 11.09 in 1953. Nine states produced an average of over 10 tons per acre in 1953, Huffington said. They are, in descending order, California, Utah, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Illinois, and Colorado. In a season with normal rainfall it is not too much to expect the Keystone state growers to achieve a ten-ton average yield per acre, with 100 20-ton growers. In fact a 25-ton tomato club has been proposed as a national project, to be started in 1954, he said.

Suggestions on the latest cultural and labor management problems were given. These are to appear in the February issue of the Pennsylvania Packer, a publication of the Pennsylvania Canners' Association.

UNWELCOME KITTY

HELENA, Montana (AP)—A young woman wanted to ship a pet baby skunk. The Havre express agent Carl Nessett first said, "Sure," and only then remembered to ask whether the kitty had been de-scented. Her, "No," brought the agent's reply — "No, sir! You can't ship him that-a-way. Please get him out of here!"

competition later in the week. The Angus breed has carried off honors in most events of recent years. The breed is highly favored in the east, while the Hereford is popular with western producers.

OFFER TIPS ON HOW TO GROOM YOUR CLOTHES

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP BEAUTY EDITOR

Movies queens have the same glamor problems as Main Street princesses. They can't afford to have a hair out of place, even for a second, and must be on the charm team all the time. If necessary, they must carry a few beauty replacements in the handbag in anticipation of that unforeseen moment of horror when sheer stockings are nipped by a run, or a slight snuffle demands a handkerchief.

All in all, they belong to the good grooming school that demands a lingerie wash basin dunking at night and the proper hanging of clothes before bedtime. Rich or poor, there are few girls who can command the services of a fairy godmother to perform these chores at odd hours. So even the well-to-do and glamorous must work at being chic.

Here are some useful tips from modeler's Joan Weldon, who shares her own beauty habits with you.

Hang Skirt On Hanger

1. Be sure to hang your skirt on a skirt hanger; the moment you take it off. If you throw it over a chair hurriedly, you will only have to spend time over the ironing board tomorrow. The type hangers which hold ten or twelve garments will save space.

2. Polish your shoes after each wearing, not only for an attractive lustre, but to prevent cracks which result from drying. If you get caught in the rain without overshoes, stuff your shoes with paper until they are dry. This not only helps to retain their shape, but will help absorb the water quickly.

3. Wash your underwear each day, rinsing out every trace of soap. If soap isn't washed out carefully, it is likely to eat through the fabric. Never squeeze. Press gently. When drying, remember that clothes pins are not old-fashioned but useful and sensible.

Brush Your Clothes

4. Brush clothes when you remove them, and before you put them in the closet. Be sure to air them overnight. Your brush should be clean.

5. Empty your coat pockets of coins, matches and handkerchiefs before putting them away. This helps maintain the shape of jackets or coats.

6. Keep your jewelry in a container meant for the purpose. It will be easy to locate earrings, pins or pearls the next morning, if you don't get in the habit of just dropping them anywhere around the house.

7. If you have a morning appointment, be sure to pin your hair the night before. It will delay you in the morning if you succumb to the desire to go off to bed without performing your beauty chores. Nails should be checked for a touchup, too.

Here's some handy kitchen arithmetic: You'll get about 3/4 cup diced drained pineapple and about 1/2 cup juice from a nine-ounce can of sliced pineapple.

Chronology Of '53 News

1 — Gettysburg's lagging Community Chest drive is over the $15,000 mark, but is still $5,500 short of its goal of $20,500. Deers seem plentiful this season, according to reports of kills being made to The Gettysburg Times. An official total of 38 marriage certificates recorded in the Adams County Clerk of Courts office may have established an all-time high for a November month.

2 — Awards are presented at Gettysburg High assembly program to three student "Voice of Democracy" winners. Retail Merchants Association asks residents to express opinion—with cash—on whether they want the town to be decorated at Christmas time. Forty years ago today—December 2, 1913—Dr. Chester G. Crist, Adams County Medical Director, for the last 35 years, started practice of medicine at 22 E. Middle St.

3 — George E. Burgner is elected president of Gettysburg Board of Health. Apple spokesmen claim 1953 unusual apple year, "very good from a price viewpoint for local growers but what promised to be a short year on supply turned out to be slightly larger than last year as to the total national crop."

4 — Adams County Commissioners study several plans for future improvements at County Home. Further arrangements for development of Santa Claus Booth on Lincoln Square and decision to purchase several hundred copies of a national All-Sports Almanac for resale occupies major portion of Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting. "But the offenders have been increasing in recent years, and are now so concentrated in certain communities and hospitals that they are impairing the quality of surgical care offered the unsuspecting public in those places. . . ."

The article carries an accompanying statement from Dr. Paul R. Hawley, director of the American College of Surgeons, who will be remembered as the medical officer in charge of the hospital facilities for the veterans attending the Blue and Gray Reunion here in 1938.

Gettysburg and Adams County are fortunate not to have experienced any of the abuses cited in the hospital. Our physicians and surgeons are above reproach.

DULLES TAKES STAND AGAINST DIVIDED WORLD

NEW YORK (P)—Secretary of State Dulles will meet the Russians in Berlin soon, firmly pledged against any deal to divide the world between the rule of Moscow and that of the Western Powers.

There is no plan for a "partnership" division of world power with those who suppress freedom," the secretary said last night in an address to the Council of Foreign Relations here.

Reviewing Eisenhower administration work in foreign and security affairs during its first year and taking a quick look at the future, Dulles made these basic points:

Lists Basic Points
Future diplomacy—The United States, Britain and France will negotiate at Berlin for the unification of Germany and the liberation of Austria. The aim is to "advance the cause of human welfare."

The way to a cold war victory—If the free nations devote themselves to promoting freedom, they will effectively demonstrate its advantages to people behind the Iron Curtain, thus offering "our greatest hope" for solution of the Soviet problem. Dulles said there is now, even within Russia, a test of strength between the people and "the powerful rulers."

Free world security—The Eisenhower administration has made a "basic decision" to build its security upon "massive retaliatory power" so that Russia may be deterred from attack. Dulles linked the announced withdrawal of two divisions from Korea to this decision, saying it will provide more security at less cost.

Changes In Taft-Hartley Act Suggested By Durkin, Ike Parallel Each Other

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower lost his first labor pilot when Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin, head of the AFL Planners Union, went over the side and rowed ashore.

When Durkin quit last September he said he had worked for months with White House aides on changes which the President could ask Congress to make in the Taft-Hartley labor act.

He said he had agreement from the White House on 19 proposals but that the White House then backed out. Eisenhower then denied breaking his word to any associate.

On Monday Eisenhower, probably with the help of his new secretary of labor, James P. Mitchell, sent to Congress suggested changes which have been described as totaling 14.

Actually in some paragraphs of his message several ideas were expressed or suggested. An examination of the 19 changes Durkin talked about and the ones just offered by Eisenhower show:

Parallel Each Other

The Durkin version and the Eisenhower message parallel each other in eight cases; Eisenhower offered three ideas not mentioned by Durkin; Durkin had eight suggestions ignored by Eisenhower; three of Eisenhower's suggestions overlap four of Durkin's.

Here are the eight parallel proposals:

Neither an employer nor a union has to negotiate on anything during the life of a contract unless the contract itself provides for a renegotiating.

Employers in casual or temporary industries should be free to enter into prehire agreements with unions.

Unions should be relieved of responsibility for unauthorized acts of their individual members.

Under the present law the National Labor Relations Board must ask for an injunction against a secondary boycott but this should be discretionary with the board.

Secondary Boycotts
Secondary boycotts should be permitted in certain cases, as when an employer does "farm-out" work for a struck employer.

Checkoff of union dues could continue until revoked in writing by an employee.

Requirements for a union's filing of information on its finances should be simplified.

Eisenhower urged clarification of the law so states won't be deprived of any rights to deal with state emergencies and announced a study is under way on conflicts between state and federal jurisdiction.

This was the overlap:

Eisenhower asked power to tell fact-finding boards in national emergency strike threats to make recommendations on a settlement.

Durkin expressed hope that by this time the President could make some suggestions on national emergencies.

Anti-Raid Oath
Eisenhower urged that employers as well as union leaders be required to take an anti-Communist oath. Durkin urged abolishing the oath entirely.

Eisenhower suggested a study to find better ways of safeguarding union welfare funds. Durkin suggested small employers be allowed to waive the right to participate in the fund handling.

When a strike is in progress Eisenhower urged barring another union or the employer from calling for an election to get rid of the striking union, for four months in the case of the other union and a year for the employer. Durkin's version would have forbade any such election for four months.

These were suggestions not in Durkin's version but made by Eisenhower:

Free Speech Rights
The mediation service must step

86 PERISH, 13 ARE MISSING IN BAD AVALANCHE

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Thousands of rescue workers struggled today to uncover at least 135 persons still missing under snow and ruins in the avalanche-stricken Alps of west Austria and Switzerland. There and in Bavarian Germany 86 already were listed among the "white dead."

Only minor slides, which caused no damage, were reported during the night, and colder weather brought hope the snow movement was letting up. But a Vienna weather official warned that west Austria's average temperatures still were above normal and there still was danger of more avalanches.

This was the toll so far from the snowslides which began Monday, in the wake of the winter's worst blizzards:

Austria — 62 dead, 131 missing. Switzerland — 18 dead, 4 missing. Bavarian Germany — 6 dead.

Rescuers Work Frantically

The center of tragedy was the 12-mile Walsertal valley of west Austria, near the Swiss frontier. There hundreds of rescue workers from Austria, Switzerland and Liechtenstein worked frantically seeking the dead and injured in homes in the village of Bionas, crushed under two massive avalanches.

Reports from the first rescuers who reached the isolated valley said 28 were badly injured, 72 missing and 23 badly injured. Aid poured into the entrance of the valley and U. S. Army helicopters stood by in Germany and Austria waiting for instructions.

Rescue work continued, too, in Dalaas, also in the Vorarlberg sector, where eight persons were still missing. A huge snowslide yesterday swept over the railroad station and a delayed train waiting at the platform there. Five persons died under the snow and 36 others, some injured, were rescued.

in whenever an injunction has been issued in a labor dispute; the act should be clarified on the free speech rights of employers and unions; the government should take a vote of workers, when a strike is involved, on whether they want the strike.

These were suggestions in Durkin's version but omitted by Eisenhower:

States should have jurisdiction over small employers who are now covered by the T-H Act but ignored by the NLRB; the act should be changed to let some people now classified as supervisors and therefore barred from unions become eligible for membership; an examination should be made of the way the NLRB administers the act; where there is a union shop contract the union should be allowed to fire a member who gives the employer confidential union information or is reasonably believed linked with communism; the act should say clearly a boss can notify a union about job openings so the union can send him applicants; the act should be clarified on job qualifications for employment, such as length of experience; unions and employers should be permitted to notify each other within 30 days, instead of the present 60, of intention to end a contract; during the life of a union shop contract there should be no vote among the employees on whether they want the union shop.

WIN CORN AWARDS
HARRISBURG (AP)—A York County father and son combination today were named corn growing champions of Pennsylvania at the State Farm Show.

J. E. Lanius and his son, of York R.D. 3, were awarded the grand champion cup for their crop yield of 141.6 bushels of corn per acre.

The award was presented by Dr. Howard B. Sprague, head of the School of Agriculture, Agronomy Department, Pennsylvania State University.

The 1954 U. S. national amateur figure skating championships will be staged in Los Angeles on March 18, 19 and 20. They will be held under the auspices of the U. S. Figure Skating Association.
